

FOIAb3b

CPYRGHT

LBJ & Advisers Review Viet Nam

President Johnson met with his top military and diplomatic advisers today to review the situation in Viet Nam.

The session of the National Security Council was a continuation of a conference which began at the White House yesterday. Present were Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, U.S. Ambassador to Saigon; Secretary of State Dean Rusk; Undersecretary of State George W. Ball; Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara; Deputy Defense Secretary Cyrus R. Vance and Central Intelligence Agency Director Admiral William F. Raborn.

The meetings came against a background of sharp Senate debate touched off by formal disclosure that U.S. troops have for some time been authorized to conduct "combat support" of South Vietnamese units under certain conditions. (UPI)